Contemporary SPC Flooring

Everyday spaces, beautifully finished.

Deko Style X gives homes, renovations and rental upgrades a clean timber look foundation without making the decision feel complicated. Six easy to place finishes and simple care help the room feel warmer, tidier and ready to live in.

Clean modern foundation

Timber looks that sit easily with contemporary interiors.

Made for the rooms used most

A low maintenance choice for homes, rentals and renovations.

Easy to keep looking good

Straight forward care, without demanding routines.

CHOICE, SIMPLIFIED

A well finished floor, made straight forward.

Deko Style X was created to make a polished SPC floor easier to choose. A 0.50 mm wear layer, waterproof construction and a focused six colour palette come together in a dependable collection for first homes, renovations, rentals and everyday projects - selected and supported to the Deko standard.

0.50 mm wear layer

Surface protection for regular use

Waterproof SPC construction

A straightforward base for modern interiors

Six focused finishes

A clearer way to shortlist colour

Six finishes that make choosing simpler.

The Style X palette keeps the choice useful and focused. Two pale finishes brighten, two balanced oaks sit easily across broad interior styles, and two warmer colours add stronger depth. Every option earns a distinct place, so customers can compare without working through an oversized catalogue.

DSX101 — Alpine Spotted Gum

Alpine Spotted Gum has a light blonde base, gentle honey warmth and a clean, even grain. It brightens compact rooms and first-home interiors without feeling stark, creating a soft timber foundation that is easy to live around. Warm white, pale timber and natural fibres keep its easy going character intact.

Tone:
Light blonde with gentle honey warmth

Light behaviour:
Bright and easy going

Pairs with:
Warm white, pale timber, linen, soft grey and natural fibres

DSX102 — Arctic White Oak

Arctic White Oak is the palest, coolest Style X finish. Its white grey base reflects light generously, while faint timber grain gives the surface enough movement to avoid looking flat. It suits bright kitchens, apartments and clean contemporary interiors where the floor should stay quiet and visually light.

Tone:
Pale white grey oak

Light behaviour:
Crisp and very bright

Pairs with:
White, pale concrete, cool grey, black accents and brushed metal

DSX103 — European Oak

European Oak balances pale beige warmth with soft taupe grain, giving the room a light natural floor without the coolness of Arctic White Oak. It moves easily between modern, transitional and rental interiors, especially beside warm whites, pale stone and mixed neutral furniture.

Tone:
Light beige taupe oak

Light behaviour:
Balanced and calm

Pairs with:
Warm white, taupe, pale stone, soft green and mixed neutral furnishings

DSX104 — Natural Brushed Oak

Natural Brushed Oak brings a clearer golden blonde warmth and a smooth oak rhythm that makes rooms feel comfortable and familiar. It is warmer than European Oak but still light enough for open plan living, first homes and family spaces. Cream, oatmeal and pale stone bring out its softer side.

Tone:
Golden blonde warm oak

Light behaviour:
Warm and relaxed

Pairs with:
Cream, warm white, oatmeal, pale stone and natural timber

DSX105 — QLD Spotted Gum

QLD Spotted Gum introduces richer brown warmth and stronger grain movement without becoming a dark floor. It gives living rooms and dining spaces more definition, particularly beneath cream upholstery, warm stone and soft charcoal. Choose it when the floor needs a little more presence than the lighter Style X oaks.

Tone:
Warm mid brown timber

Light behaviour:
Grounded without feeling dark

Pairs with:
Cream, leather, warm stone, soft charcoal and natural fibres

DSX106 — Rustic Walnut Oak

Rustic Walnut Oak is the deepest Style X option, though it reads as a warm mid-brown rather than near black walnut. Weathered grain and tonal variation give it a more lived in character, helping lounges, bedrooms and studies feel warmer and more grounded without making the room overly dark.

Tone:
Warm medium walnut brown

Light behaviour:
Grounded and inviting

Pairs with:
Warm white, bronze, leather, textured fabrics and darker joinery

Mandatory technical notes:
• Waterproof refers to the flooring construction. It does not make the installed floor a moisture barrier or flood proof system. Suitability depends on the substrate, room use, perimeter treatment and compliance with the current Deko installation guide and BPIR. Not intended for shower floors, constant ponding or flooding.

• Limited warranty terms, eligibility requirements and exclusions apply. Builder and developer purchases are subject to separate coverage conditions. Refer to the current Deko Warranty & Maintenance Guide.

• Specifications, colours, availability and supporting documents may be updated. Always refer to the current Deko product, installation, warranty and compliance documents at the time of specification, purchase and installation.
